2 Youthful Burglars Are Captured In Boyle Store

A series of burglaries at the Bernard Boyle store in Emmitsburg was solved early Friday morning when two juveniles were caught by the proprietor and his son, Michael, after they had waited for several hours in the dark store room with guns in their hands.

An anonymous telephone call had told them a burglary was to be staged.

The two juveniles were caught after they entered the storeroom through a rear window. They offered no resistance and were turned over to Maryland State police.

ADMIT 7 BUGLARIES

The pair implicated two other boys and Trooper William F. Davis of the Maryland State Police said the four youths, ranging in age from 15 to 17 years, admitted seven burglaries since late July at the Boyle store which netted them between $700 and $800 in loot, mostly cash. They also took some cigarettes and on one occasion some clothing but usually they took only money which they used for "mostly for ice cream sodas and bowling."

Police identified the pair who were captured about 1 a.m. Friday in the Boyle place of business as Thomas Edward Ott Jr., 17, and his brother, Raymond Ott, 16. The other pair implicated were Charles Calvin Crum, aged 16, and Ronald Leroy Sweeney, 15. All are from Emmitsburg.

SOMETIMES USED KEYS

Not all of the boys were involved in all of the burglaries, police said. On some occasions one or more of the boys was absent. The quartet will be charged as juvenile deliquents and the court will determine whether they will be tried as juveniles or their cases waived to regular court terms.

Police said that the first entrance was made through a panel

Cuba Labelled Secret Hotbed Of Red Troops

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Premier Fidel Castro's Cuba was depicted as a secret hotbed of Soviet-bloc troops and missile installations in a joint report by four major Cuban underground groups.

The 20-page statement, released in Miami on Friday, said that more than 10,000 foreign troops have landed; large missile bases will be completed in 60 days: and Cuba thereafter will join the Warsaw Pact, the Communist counter-part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Signing the report were leaders of the People's Revolutionary Movement, National Recovery Movement, Christian Democratic Movement and Revolutionary Unity.

The exile leaders said that, when troop landings in Cuba are completed, the island nation 90 miles from Florida will be garrisoned in the west by Chinese, in the central portion by Russians, Hungarians and Czechs, and on the Isle of Pines by Africans.

They said missile bases under construction in Cuba will have a striking range up to 400 miles.

Rescue Young Pregnant Mother From Angry Sea; Husband, 3 Others Die

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—The dawn of Eilean Case's 18th birthday found her, a pregnant mother, clinging to a makeshift raft, her husband, brother and two others victims of an angry sea.

Mrs. Case was rescued Friday from the storm-swept waters of Georgia Strait, where she had hung on doggedly to the raft for five hours.

Three persons made it to the raft after the 42-foot fishpacker, Loretta B, swamped—Mrs. Case, her husband, Jimmy, 25, and the skipper, Jack Bland, 38, of Vancouver.

"But a short time after we got into the water a wave swept Bland away" Mrs. Case said.

SEA TAKES TOLL

The Cases fought the sea. Then the cold and buffeting waves took their toll and he slipped away.

Mrs. Case's brother, Glen Loren, 21, and Bud Greenhall of Gibsons, B.C., were asleep below when the heavily laden Loretta B apparently was caught in a trough between two huge waves off the mouth of the Fraser River. They evidently went down with the ship.

The boat started sinking quickly, Mrs. Case said.

Case, his wife and Bland were in the wheelhouse. Cash smashed a window clambered onto the deck and dragged his wife out. Bland sent a distress call and joined them.

CARGO OF SALMON

As the Loretta B went down, they grabbed three small fish boxes and lashed them together. The three held onto the rope.

Mrs. Case, who has a 14-month-old child, is expecting her baby in a month. A doctor said she suffered bruises and swollen arms but her unborn child was apparently unharmed.

The Cases and Lorenz live in nearby Galiano. She was brought to the home of a doctor here and placed under sedation.

The Loretta B was on her way to a cannery here with 20,000 pounds of salmon.

Doctors Unable To Rouse Soblen, Fugitive Red Spy

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP) — Doctors continued efforts today to rouse Dr. Robert A Soblen from his drug-induced coma. Hospital bulletins gave no indication the fugitive spy had responded to medical treatment or the tearful coaxing of his wife since he knocked himself out with barbituates two days ago.

Soblen remained unconscious and a spokesman at London's Hillingdon Hospital said at 6 a.m. that his condition remained the same.

Doctors reported Friday that the 62-year old leukemia victim's heart showed signs of exhaustion and added that the situation "gives rise to anxiety."

CLOSELY GUARDED

Soblen's wife spent five hours at the runaway spy's bedside Friday. She watched in the small, closely guarded room as her husband was given oxygen and fed liquids through a tube.

She sometimes wept during her vigil, and was reported to have said: "I can only pray all the time that my husband will live through this terrible ordeal."

Mrs. Soblen, known professionally as Dr Dina Soble, flew to London from New York on Friday. Like Soblen, she is a psychiatrist.

Before the visit began, she was searched by a nurse and her purse was examined by a detective. Another detective watched from across the bed as she sat with her husband.

WIFE RAISED BAIL

Officials, who still have not discovered how Soblen got the drugs used in his latest bid to escape a life prison sentence in the United States for spying for the Soviet Union, were guarding against any new breakdown in security.

After leaving the hospital, Mrs. Soblen was taken to a secret address in London. She has permission to visit Soblen at any time as long as medical authorities think it advisable, a Home Office spokesman said.

Mrs. Soblen personally put up $40,000 and borrowed $60,000 more to make up the $100,000 bail which was forfeited when Soblen fled the United States to Israel on June 25.

She had been in confinement since Oct. 30, the day Richard Thoraldson, owner of the Blue Ribbon Bar, was shot.

Forest, who overruled a jury conviction of second degree murder at Mrs. Weiss' first trial in 1960 and ordered a new trial, said the crime had been committed in "hot blood and with a certain amount of justification."

WILL SELECT MISS AMERICA THIS EVENING

By DORMAN CORDELL

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A week of frantic activity by 54 talented beauty queens will end tonight, in smiles and tears, when judges select a new Miss America.

The task confronting the judges is this:

Pick 10 semifinalists from the glamorous contestants. From the 10, select five finalists. Then name the girl who will reign as Miss America 1963.

The girl who will succeed Maria Beale Fletcher of Asheville, N.C., as the nation's queen of beauty is expected to be crowned shortly before midnight.

7 WIN TROPHIES

The ceremony will climax a series of preliminary judging that began Monday in the nation's oldest beauty pageant. Competing are representatives from every state, Canada, the District of Columbia, Chicago and New York City.

Seven girls have won trophies in the three rounds of talent and swim suit preliminaries. Judging also has been completed in the evening gown division, but those winners are never announced.

Winners in the preliminary rounds receive $1,000 scholarships but they do not necessarily advance to the semifinals.

The winner of the swim suit competition Friday was Miss Wisconsin--who thought she was too thin and has been drinking chocolate sodas to round out her 35-22-35 figure. She is Joan Mary Engh, 21, of La Crosse, Wis.

TIE FOR TALENT

There was a tie in Friday's talent contest when the judges were unable to decide between the fiery baton twirling of Miss Nebraska Mary Lee Jepsen, 18, of Paillion, Neb., and the organ and piano playing of Miss Maryland, Beverly Ann Smith, 18, of Baltimore.

They join the four girls who won the talent and swim suit competition in earlier rounds.

The four girls who won in earlier rounds are Patricia Lei Anderson, Miss Hawaii, and Charlotte Ann Carroll, Miss Mississippi, in the talent; and Miss Michigan, Carole Jean Van Valin, and Pamela Gilbert, Miss Illinois, in the swim suit.

Semifinalists will repeat their talent performances for the judges tonight.

BEATEN BRIDE IS BATTLING FOR HER LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Hanja Dekaplany, a former model mutilated last week by her husband with acid and a knife, is battling for her life in St. Francis Hospital.

The 25-year-old bride of a month remains in extremely critical condition, a hospital spokesman said. The extent and severity of her burns indicate her chances for survival are problematical, he added.

The woman's emigre physician-husband, Dr. Geza Dekaplany, has been charged with attempted murder, assault with acid, and mayhem.

MANY ACID BURNS

"I just wanted to destroy her beauty," police quote him as saying, adding the doctor claims his wife was unfaithful. The former Hungarian Freedom Fighter is being held in Santa Clara County jail.

Mrs. Dekaplany was transferred here from San Jose on Thursday. A team of surgeons at the Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery Clinic at St. Francis Hospital is working out treatment for her.

The hospital spokesman said that if she survives the acid burns over her face and more than half of her body, she will face other crises during reconstructive surgery.

Director Of Fruit Experimental Station In Argentine Ends 7-Week Study Here

Senor Martin N. Oscos, director and entomologist of the Estacion Experimental Cinco Saltos (fruit tree experimental station) in the Upper Rio Negro Valley of Argentina, today was at Pennsylvania State University after completing seven weeks of work at the Penn State Fruit Research Laboratory at Arendtsville.

Senor Oscos, his wife, his son, Martin Jr., and his sister, Senora Correa, of La Plata, Argentina, have been residents of an apartment at Carlisle St. here during the period he and Dean Asquith, Biglerville, entomologist at the Arendtsville laboratories, worked together to outline to the Argentine scientist, the experimental methods used at Arendtsville.

Oscos plans to follow many of the local methods at the experimental station he heads in South America. His trip to the United States will end about October 1 after a visit to experimental stations on the west coast.

FIRST TO COME

Senor Oscos, whose station serves an area of the upper Rio Negro Valley of Argentina which produces about 15½ million bushels of apples and 2½ million bushels of pears annually, must be back for the Argentine spring—which they have during the period the U.S. has autumn. Summer and winter are reversed on the two hemispheres.

Beaming, Senor Oscos said: "You have more detailed and refined data and go further in your experiments." Asquith explained that the methods Senor Oscos has been following are those used by the Arendtsville laboratory up to a few years ago before it owned its own orchards. He explained that in working a test piot in an orchard owned by a farmer "you have to remember that he has to sell his fruit. So you can go only so far. In our own orchards where we don't have to look to that factor we frequently let the fruit on a tree be from 80 to 100 per cent destroyed. As a result we can learn as much in one year now as we could in four or five before."

GIVES IMPRESSIONS

The Argentine entomologist became the first scientist from his country to participate in an exchange of personnel agreement recently signed between Pennsylvania State University and the Interresearch Division of the Argentinian government. Actually he arrived here before the agreement was signed.

After seven weeks here he has several comments on the United States: "I had always thought it a great country—now I have confirmed that idea. I didn't know the United States was so beautiful" . . . and "the North Americans I had met in Argentina were always so busy, I had felt that North Americans were extremely hard workers who had no time for social life. Now I know that they are not only hard workers, but they also have time, somehow, for much social life."

He explained that one of the things that amazed him was the coloration of the country. In his section of Argentina the rainfall is much less than here. As a result the green freshness of trees, grass and foliage "makes the United States so beautiful."

While at the Arendtsville laboratory here, he shared Asquith's office and traveled to the Winchester Fruit Experiment Station at Winchester, Va.; to the West Virginia Experimental Farm at Kearneysville, W. Va.; to the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva, N. Y., and to Niagara Falls and to Washington, D. C.

When the family leaves here Sunday they will travel to New York City, then fly to Seattle, Wash. From there Senor Oscos will visit the fruit experimental stations at Wenatchee and Yakima, Wash.; the University of California at Berkeley and Davis, Calif., and the citrus experiment station at Riverside, Calif.

Senor Oscos' English and Asquith's Spanish have both improved considerably since the arrival of the Argentinian. They talk together in a mixture of scientific terminology, Spanish and English.

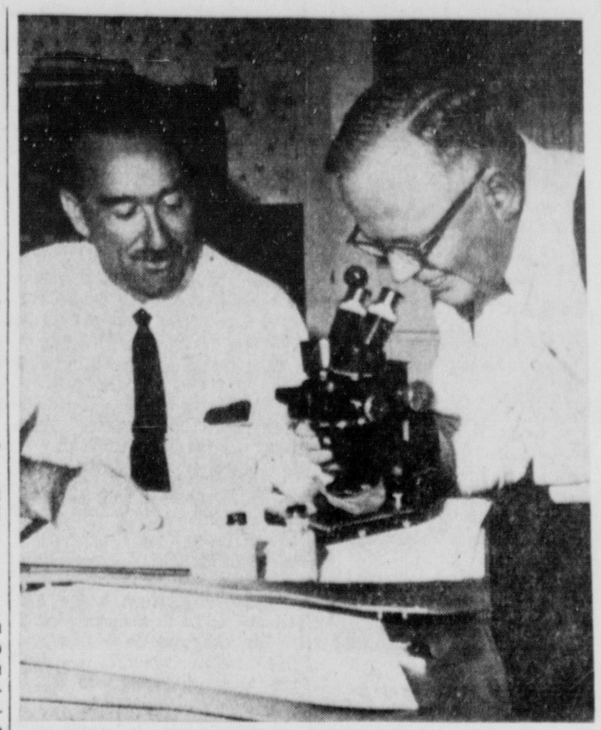
HAD JEWELRY STOLEN

Asquith introduced Senor Oscos and his family to the Spanish peaking people of the area upon their arrival here, which made the whole family feel more at home. And the ladies in the family have been on a round of activitie, accompanied by Spanish speaking countians since their arrival.

There was one sad note in their visit. Burglars broke into their apartment and stole some jewelry.

But despite the loss, Senor Oscos and his family are enthusiastic about the United States.

And what is Dean Asquith's opinion of the man with whom he has worked so closely the last seven weeks? He says: "If Argentina is full of people as fine as Senor Oscos, it is in good hands."



Scientists from two countries study an international problem of insect damage to fruit leaves at the South Mountain Fruit Laboratory at Arendtsville. At left is Matrin N. Oscos, director and entomologist of the Estacion, Argentina, experiment station who today completed a summer of work at the Arendtsville laboratory studying its experimental techniques. Looking through the microscope is Dean Asquith, of the local station, with whom Senor Osco worked. (Times photo)

Parts Of State Below Freezing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Below freezing temperatures put the chill on parts of Pennsylvania again Friday. The thermometer skidded to record lows in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Light to heavy frost was reported at Kane where the mercury dipped to 26 degrees. At Corry it was an unofficial 20.

Pittsburgh's 44 was a record—one degree below the old record set in 1924. At Philadelphia, the 47-degree reading was three below the old record of 1888.

Other temperatures were 29 at Bradford, 30 at Philipsburg, 41 at Williamsport, 45 at Altoona and Allentown and 47 at Harrisburg.

It was the second day in a row that the mercury went below freezing in parts of the state; and it was the second day for record lows in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Announcement will be made next week if the Big-Little Baseball League will hold a banquet next month.

Gus Dayhoff and Curt Eckert, who are in charge of making improvements at the field, reported progress in their work to which they are devoting evenings and other spare time but that there is still plenty to be done before work is completed.

Crys Martin Gets Pink Bagel Slicer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Crystale Martin, Miss Pennsylvania, received an unsigned Christmas card, a pink bagel slicer and set the mad scene from Hamlet to music Thursday.

The bagel slicer was left in Miss Martin's hotel room here where she is competing in the 1963 Miss America contest. She thinks it was left by Lynne Maloney, last year's Miss Pennsylvania, and another friend.

Miss Martin sang the Hamlet scene in the talent competition of the pageant won by Miss Hawaii. She accompanied herself on the autoharp. Miss Martin also disclosed she received a flood of letters, many of them from friends at the University of Rochester where she was a student last year.

WOOL GROWERS ASKED TO VOTE ON PROGRAM

Adams County wool growers today were urged to cast their ballot in the referendum on the nation's wool and lamb marketing-development program.

Myles E. Starner, chairman of the county Agricultural Stablization and Conservation Committee, said the vote will be held at the ASCS county office, rear of N. Stratton St., during the two-week period beginning Monday and continuing through September 21.

Growers who have owned sheep or lambs six months of age or older for any period of at least 30 days since January 1 are eligible to vote either by applying at the ASCS office in person or by mail.

SET UP IN 1955

Starner said the vote will determine whether deductions will continue to be made from producer payments under the program which has been in effect since 1955. The deductions finance a program of advertising, promotion and related activities to improve the market for wool and lambs. The program is carried out under an agreement between the secretary of agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council.

The first agreement, approved in 1955, was extended for four more years by a vote in 1959. The referendum this month will extend the program for four more years if the plan is approved by producers having at least two-thirds of the volume of production represented by the total vote.

Deductions under the new agreement would not exceed one cent per pound from shorn wool payments and five cents per hundredweight from unshorn lamb payments. These rates are the same as have been in effect for the last eight years.

RESCUE 40 TEEN-AGERS IN CHURCH FIRE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Forty teen-agers were guided to safety Friday night as a five-alarm fire destroyed the 65-year-old St. Mary's Roman Catholic Cathedral.

The only injury reported was a cut hand suffered by the Rev. John Heaney as he attempted to enter the rear of the burning building to remove the Blessed Sacrament. He was unsuccessful.

The fire was spotted about 10 p.m. as the teen-agers knelt in the lower floor of the church. Father Heaney said leaders of the group moved them out safely. There was no panic.

Arson investigators went to work immediately. Fire Chief William Murray would not comment on whether the blaze had been set deliberately.

HEAVY LOSS

He noted that fire had engulfed the interior of the building by the time the first firemen arrived.

He estimated damage at about $2.5 million.

A member of the first crew at the scene said he was sure the fire had been set because it was burning in several places when the first firemen arrived four minutes after the initial alarm.

St. Mary's is located on Van Ness Avenue in the heart of San Francisco. Traffic was rerouted as a torrent of water gushed down hilly Van Ness.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Times Absorbs Circulation Of Weekly: Beginning with Tuesday's issue approximately 800 former readers of the York Springs News-Comet, a weekly newspaper, began receiving The Gettysburg Times. The News-Comet ceased publication with its issue of last week and all subscribers will receive The Times until the expiration of their subscription to the News-Comet. Henry J. Smith, editor, in a letter to his subscribers said, "The News-Comet is beginning to burst at the seams. With the retirement of time-proven on-the-spot members of the staff, the publishers find that distance sometimes does not lend enchantment and that a circle of coverage can over-extend itself. The News-Comet has reached beyond its limits for a weekly newspaper — converting to a daily is out of the question — enlargement of the staff for two or three days cannot be considered. Overtime pay likewise is not the solution. We have appreciated the many wonderful years we have served you and we regret that circumstances have caused a termination of our association at this time." The subscribers also received letters from Paul L. Roy, editor of The Times. He said in part, "The York Springs personnel remains with us but their services to you will be enhanced by the services of our trained staff of news and advertising representatives. The Times will be your paper. Please feel free to use it as you wish." Mr. Roy further pointed out that The Times is this year observing its 50th anniversary. "We are proud of our record and we are happy to have you join our big family" he said.

President Of Co. Firemen: John D. Poist, chief of the Conewago Fire Co. and vice president of the Adams County Firemen's Association, was elected president of the latter organization at the 30th annual convention held at New Oxford, Monday.

Gettysburg Is Her Home: Mamie Eisenhower says she and her husband, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, now consider Gettysburg, Pa., their "permanent home" no matter where they may go in the future — even the White House. Talking with a group of Pennsylvania girls from the Young Republican Club while the GOP candidate was touring Philadelphia, Mamie said of their farm at Gettysburg: "The house is mine and I love it and the trees around it. Some of my friends are trying to persuade me to build a new place on one of the hills but I fell in love with the old house first. I can hardly wait to get my hands on that house and fix it up." Someone suggested "Early American?" Mrs. Eisenhower laughed and said "No. Early Eisenhower. We have picked things up wherever we have lived and we have furniture from all parts of the world." She said that buying the house was her idea, that she had liked Gettysburg since they had lived there years ago and when she told her husband she'd like that place he had replied, "OK, go ahead and buy it."

BEAUTIFUL THINGS

It is as useless for us to try to explain the reason for beauty in the world as it would be for us to explain the reasons for grass, or color, or stars.

We know that everything which forms a part of this universe has its use and was created to be useful in some way or other. We know that everything that is beautiful pleases and thrills us. We know not why.

Yet everywhere we go we observe this desire on the part of every one to create beauty for the happiness of others. In hotel lobbies, in large theatres, in great railroad and air terminals, in public parks, in banks, and in the way of everything which comes in for use to us.

Why did the publishers make such lovely bindings for the books that are mine, many of which I have given away to various colleges and museums.

We love beauty because it somehow climbs right into us and melts into our soul. One doesn't have to be educated at all to appreciate beauty. It seems to have been one of the most precious and outstanding gifts with which the Creators has endowed us.

I believe everyone should surround oneself with beautiful things, to the extent of one's ability.

I have always been glad to see offices and working quarters everywhere being made more beautiful and attractive.

Beauty not only feeds the mind but, in a large way, I believe it feeds the body.

Just Folks

WEALTH

Wealth is iron, steel and grain,
Forest land and fertile plain;
Goods and raiment, gears and springs,
All designed for making things.
These in dollars and in cents
Money merely represents;
These are riches once disclosed
On which taxes are imposed.

There are other forms of wealth
Never taxed, and one is health,
God's best blessing, without which
No man living's truly rich.
Love's another. High and low,
Happy are if this they know;
Next the joy of life depends
On the constancy of friends.

Rich are they who earn and keep
For the night the boon of sleep
And possess the rare delight
Of an unspoiled appetite;
Good repute and conscience clear
Gain in value year by year.
Here is wealth in part or whole,
Legislatures can't control.

JOHNSON HAS PRIVATE VISIT WITH PONTIFF

VATICAN CITY (AP) — U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson called on Pope John XXIII Friday and afterward predicted great economic and social advances will result from the forthcoming Roman Catholic worldwide council.

Johnson, on the final day of his six-nation, 15-day goodwill tour around the Mediterranean, spent 41 minutes alone with the 80-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church.

Then the vice president's wife, Lady Bird, and 18-year-old daughter, Lynda Bird, joined in the unusually long audience, which lasted another eight minutes.

PLANNED 30 MINUTES

Only 20 minutes had been set aside on Johnson's program for the audience. It was clear Johnson and the Pope enjoyed their meeting.

"I had the great honor and privilege to be in the presence of His Holiness, and his wisdom and his knowledge, which is so extensive. I was listening and learning," Johnson said later.

"I was stimulated by the spiritual leadership I have just observed."

Referring to the worldwide Roman Catholic meeting opening in St. Peter's on Oct. 11, Johnson said: "From that meeting will flow great advances in the economic and social field."

From the Pope's library, the Johnsons paid the usual call at the offices of the Vatican Secretariat of State.

Then Johnson left to continue his program in Rome while Mrs. Johnson and her daughter remained to tour the Vatican Museum and see the Sistine and Pauline chapels.

The vice president toured Italy's space research center outside Rome. On Wednesday, Johnson and Italy Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni had signed a convention for Italian-American cooperation in space research.

Vatican sources said Johnson gave the Pope a message of greeting from President Kennedy and the Pope, in return, gave Johnson a message for the President.

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — An automobile crashed into a tree alongside Rt. 113 near here Friday, killing Paul V. Hunsicker Jr. 23, of Mont Clare, and seriously injuring Lois Billman, 19, of Spring City. Miss Billman was taken to Phoenixville hospital.

NEGRO PUPILS JOIN PICKETS FOR BOYCOTT

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Parents of Negro pupils, protesting what they called racial discrimination, Friday picketed the all-Negro Thaddeus Stevens grade school in nearby Twin Oaks.

The picketing accompanied what the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said was a 100 per cent boycott of the school.

The NAACP said not a single Negro pupil showed up for morning classes scheduled to start at 8:15.

REPORT NO TROUBLE

Authorities reported no trouble on the picket lines.

Philip Savage, tri-state secretary of the NAACP, said the boycott, agreed upon at a mass meeting Thursday night, will continue at the four-room school until the 76 pupils and their teachers are integrated in another and larger school attended largely by white children.

Savage in a statement earlier in the week said conditions at Thaddeus Stevens school were deplorable, that the classrooms were overcrowded and the building badly in need of repairs.

Bolts Lose Gruelling 6-0 Decision To York Suburban On Second Period Aerial

A six-yard pass for the only touchdown of the game on the third play of the second quarter gave York Suburban a 6-0 victory over Littlestown Friday evening on the Thunderbolts' field before about 2,000 fans as both schools inaugurated the 1962 season as well as the Laurel League campaign.

It was the 15th straight triumph for Suburban, defending league champions, covering a period extending back to the 1960 season. Littlestown, making its debut under its new coach, Bill Heyser, could not match the strong running attack shown by the Trojans.

York Suburban drove 64 yards for its score after holding Littlestown on the Trojans' 36 where Dave Lockner, guard, had recovered a Suburban fumble for Littlestown.

Rod Albright and Lin Julius were the big guns in the drive which produced five straight first downs to reach the Littlestown 10 as the first period ended.

LONE TOUCHDOWN

The Trojans moved to the six on three plays and on the final down Jack Gotwalt, quarterback, an excellent performer throughout, flipped a pass to Albright in the end zone for the game's only score. Albright's placement for the point was wide to the right.

Midway in the second quarter Suburban took over on its 15 via a punt from Dick Motter and initiated a drive to the Bolts' 31 as time ran out.

After being held without a first down in the first half, Littlestown started to come alive in the third period and made its first scoring threat. Dick Motter grabbed a Gotwalt punt on his 13. Aided by two 15-yard penalties, the only infractions called during the contest, the Bolts advanced to their 47. Bill Woodward, Eddie Koontz and Ted Bortner kept the drive rolling with their ball-toting, plus a 10-yard Woodward to Dale Bair aerial, as the Bolts moved to the Trojans' 18 where Dick Gardner, Suburban, pounced on a fumble to halt the threat.

Four plays later Littlestown threatened again by recovering a Trojan fumble on the visitors' 28 but again Suburban held to take possession on the 19 early in the final period.

STOPPED AT 11

The fire-up Bolts final and best threat came a few plays later. Littlestown took possession on a punt on its 46. Woodward fired a pass to Dick Motter which was good for a first down on the 15, Julius, the last defender, pulling down Motter. Another pass by Woodward, this time to Bortner, added 10 yards after Woodward had been thrown for an eight-yard loss. Koontz hit the line for two yards but on the next play Woodward was stopped as Suburban took over on the 11.

That appeared to break the back of the Bolts as Suburban started its running attack again and swept to five straight first downs as the ball rested on the Littlestown 20 when the final whistle sounded.

Suburban had a 14-5 advantage in first downs. The Trojans completed two of four passes while Littlestown made good on four of 10, with one being intercepted.

Next Saturday night Littlestown plays at South Western in another Laurel League engagement.

SCHOLASTIC GRID SEASON OPENS FRIDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — More than 100 schoolboy football teams ushered in the 1962 gridiron season Friday night with results pretty much following pre-season estimates.

Perfect football weather prevailed throughout the Commonwealth and every scheduled game was played with the sole exception of the Bethel-Gateway clash in the west postponed because of light trouble.

Chief Logan, owner of the longest unbeaten skein in the state, romped to its 23rd victory 18-0 over Capt. Jack.

Beaver Falls showed itself to be a threat in the power-packed western area by winning its 22nd straight game, second longest streak in the state, by walloping New Brighton 25-7.

KEEP STREAKS ALIVE

Also keeping long winning streaks alive were Lock Haven with its 21st victory, a 38-7 romp over Clearfield and York Suburban's 14th, a 6-0 whitewash of Littletown.

The state unbeaten record is 46 straight by Braddock between 1956 and 1960.

Monessen and Albert Gallatin, he WPIAL Class AA and A champs, respectively, were idle.

Coal Township, 1961 champion in the vast Eastern Conference, looked in good form with a 33-7 victory over Bloomsburg. Pottsville turned in a 40-7 victory over Blue Mountain and Mount Carmel blasted West Hazleton 26-7.

Central Dauphin smashed neighboring Cedar Cliff 21-7 in a Central Penn Conference game. Other teams in the conference were idle or play Sunday. Harrisburg's Bishop McDevitt, although not affiliated with the conference, hung a 20-0 defeat on conference-member Williamsport.

Most of Friday night's action took place in western Pennsylvania. Virtually all of the WPIAL teams took the field for the first time, but many of the contests were so-called exhibitions which have no bearing on that conference's standings.

THREE HOMERS HELP YANKS TO BOOST LEAD

In 1927 they called it "Five O'clock Lightning."

In this era of the night game, perhaps it would be more accurate to dub it "10 O'clock Lightning."

Regardless of what it's called, the formula used by New York Yankee manager Ralph Houk today and the one used by Miller Huggins 35 years ago are the same: Just keep sending 'em up there and pretty soon someone's going to pop one.

Elston Howard, Bill Skowron and Tony Kubek did the job Friday night, each popping a home run as the Yanks stormed from behind for a 5-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

3-GAME LEAD

It left New York three games up on Minnesota, 4 ahead of the Los Angeles Angels and one game closer to wrapping up the Yankees' 12th American League pennant in 14 years.

The Twins and Angels kept pace with Minnesota taking Detroit 6-4 and the Angels outlasting Baltimore 5-4 in 10 innings. But with the season heading toward the finish, every day they fail to gain on New York is just that day lost.

Cleveland rallied for a 2-1 triumph over Kansas City and Washington whipped the Chicago White Sox 7-2 in other American League games.

LATE RALLIES

It was in 1927, the year Babe Ruth hit 60 home runs and Lou Gehrig 47, that the "Five O'clock Lightning" tag was put on Huggins' Yankees. It referred to their late-inning bombardments, built on homers, that so often destroyed an opponent's lead.

That was the story Friday night. Boston's 6-foot-3 right-hander, Gene Conley, was working on a five-hitter, had a 3-2 lead and had retired 15 men in order when the lightning struck in the seventh inning.

Howard, who had homered earlier in the game, led off the seventh with a single and scored ahead of Skowron when the Yank first baseman poled his 20th homer of the season. Two outs later Kubek parked one in almost the same spot and the Yanks had a 5-3 lead, good enough to stand off an eighth-inning Boston rally.

Minnesota scored the winning run on a rare obstruction ruling in beating Detroit for the 11th time in 13 meetings this season. The Twins trailed 4-3 in the sixth. Rich Rollins singled in winning pitcher Jim Kaat with the tying run and moved Vic Power to second. Power advanced when Al Kaline's throw from right field skipped past third base. Rounding third, Power collided with third baseman Steve Boros, and was beaten to the plate by Phil Regan's throw of the retrieved ball.

Plate umpire Ed Runge ruled Boros had obstructed Power, however, and allowed the go-ahead run.

Los Angeles hustled in two runs in the top of the 10th, then hung on for victory at Baltimore.

Pete Ramos of the Indians allowed only two hits in beating Kansas City. Washington knocked out Eddie Fisher in the fourth and continued its 13-hit attack against four relief men in the easy triumph over Chicago.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BATTING — Bill Mazeroski, Pirates, hit grand slam homer in eighth inning, snapping 1-1 tie and leading Pittsburgh to 10-1 victory over Los Angeles that trimmed Dodgers' National League lead to a half-game over second-place San Francisco.

PITCHING — Pedro Ramos, Indians, gave up only an unearned run while hurling Cleveland to a 2-1 triumph over Kansas City with a two-hitter.

Warriors Perform Well But Drop Grid Opener To Westminster Eleven 14-6

It's hard to convince anyone the season looks bright after dropping the initial footbll game of the season, but that's exactly the situation for the 1962 Gettysburg High School Warriors. Gettysburg opened its new campaign by being handed a 14-6 setback at the hands of Westminster Friday evening before approximately 2,500 fans on the Marylanders' field.

Led by the rifle arm of converted guard, John Longanecker, the Warriors displayed a brilliant passing attack. Longanecker called an outstanding game, played with the calm coolness of a polished quarterback and shook up his defenders by running well with the ball.

A lot of Longanecker's performance must be credited to a determined forward wall which time and again gave the Maroon and White signal-caller plenty of time to pick his target. Ed Ziegler turned in a fine performance at center and linebacker as well as tackle Paul Plank. Ron Baker and Dan Heagey covered the guard posts like cement pillars.

Gettysburg's problem was finding holes and adequate blocking for its runners who were held to a net 21-yards gained. On defense, the Warriors proved their strength against passing, holding the opposition to three completions out of 10 attempts.

SCORE ON PASS

Gettysburg broke the ice with 5:02 minutes remaining in the first quarter. Garry Guise recovered a Mike Wright fumble on the Owls' 12-yard line. After Jim Newman was thrown back to the 20, Longanecker flicked an aerial to Newman which covered 19 yards and put the ball on the one. Longanecker then spotted Bob Beeler in the end zone for the TD. Paul Plank's placement attempt was partially blocked by end Gary Crabbs.

Westminster bounced back to knot the count with 58 seconds gone by in the second stanza. Following a short Steve Olsen punt, the Owls took over on the Warriors' 20. Steve Raver, Ed Bollinger and Bob Downing advanced the ball to the seven on three plays. After pushing the ball to the two, Downing bolted over from that point to produce the six points. Gary Nelson then charged in to block Ed Kennedy's placement attempt.

Gettysburg managed to carry the ball from its 31 to the midfield stripe, but a fumble by Olsen on fourth down gave the Owls possession on the Gettysburg 39. Seven plays later Westminster was resting on the visitors' 10 where Raver fired a pass to Dale Freyman for the touchdown. This time Kennedy's kick went wide to the right.

GHS MAKES STAND

One of Gettysburg's best defensive exhibitions came midway through the third period. Westminster recovered a Ken Kime fumble on the Warriors' 24 and moved the ball to the two-yard line for a first down. On four plays the Warriors held and Westminster was unable to move the ball past the one.

Kime moved the pigskin out to the five, but that was as far as Gettysburg could go. On fourth down Olsen went back to punt, but John Kinser, 158-pound guard, blocked the boot which went sailing out of the end zone and Westminster had two extra points on a safety with 3:40 remaining in the third quarter.

The remainder of the fourth period was a battle of defenses with neight team being able to push the ball on the ground or in the air. Gettysburg got as far as Westminster's 30-yard line while the Owls managed to advance to the Warriors' 28.

Coach Don Young will take his Warriors into their first battle with a Blue Mountain League opponent next Saturday night when they tangle with Boiling Springs on the Bubblers' field. The contest will mark the opening of the season for Boiling Springs.

WILLS STEALS FOUR; BUMS BOW TO BUCS

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maury Wills gets to keep second base. But Bill Mazeroski will have to leave the left field bullpen where it is.

Wills, the fleet Los Angeles shortstop, put on a one-man show Friday night by stealing four bases for a season total of 82, surpassing the modern National League record of 80 set by Cincinnati's Bob Bescher 51 years ago and moving to within 14 of Ty Cobb's all-time standard of 96.

But Mazeroski overshadowed Wills' heroics with a show of power, blasting a grand slam homer that propelled Pittsburgh to a 10-1 triumph over the front-running Dodgers and trimmed their edge to a half-game over surging San Francisco, a 6-5 winner over the Chicago Cubs.

EXCEEDS RECORD

Wills started his demonstration of speed and daring in the first inning when he singled and stole second and third. In the third inning, Wills drew a walk and stole second. In the sixth, Wills again singled and promptly proceeded to second with another stolen base.

His third inning steal was No. 81, eclipsing Bescher's record. As a symbol of his achievement, Wills was presented with the second base bag.

But, it was still a 1-1 ball game in the eighth when Mazeroski came to bat with the bases loaded and won it by belting the first grand slam of his career.

There was no award for Mazeroski.

SANFORD GETS 21ST

The Giants, who haven't been this close to the Dodgers since July 8, continued their surge as Jack Sanford posted his 21st victory—his 15th in a row—with home run support from Jose Pagan, Tom Haller and Felipe Alou.

Meanwhile, third-place Cincinnati closed the gap to 3½ games with a 6-5, 11-inning triumph over St. Louis that might prove costly. Reds' first baseman Gordy Coleman, who has hit 27 homers and driven in 84 runs, was spiked during the game and will be lost for an indefinite period.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia edged Milwaukee 4-3 in 10 innings and Houston defeated the New York Mets 4-2.

TIED IN NINTH

The Reds sent their see-saw game with the Cards into extra innings by tying it in the ninth on singles by Jerry Lynch, John Edwards and Leo Cardenas. The Cards moved out front in the 10th, but the Reds again tied it on Frank Robinson's 34th homer. Then, in the 11th, Eddie Kasko led off for the Reds with a single and Pinson followed with the game-winning hit. The victory went to Dave Sisler (3-3) with Curt Simmons (8-9) charged with the defeat.

The Phillies won a home run battle with the Braves when Roy Sievers connected in the 10th, winning it for Jack Baldschun (10-7) and tagging Claude Raymond (5-4) with the loss. Don Demeter also homered for Philadelphia while Hank Aaron (No. 37) and Joe Adcock hit homers for Milwaukee.

The Colts used two-out run-producing singles by Johnny Temple and Jim Pendleton to snap a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning and beat the Mets. Jim Golden (6-11) was the winner. Al Jackson (8-18), supported by only four hits, was the loser.

Delone Edged By Hanover 12-0 As Hawks' Defense Twice Smothers Threats

Hanover High scored a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter and made them stand up as the Nighthawks tripped Delone 12-0 Friday evening in the annual neighborhood scrap at Hanover which attracted about 7,000 fans.

The first score, early in the second period, followed a Delone fumble which Don Coffman, tackle, recovered for Hanover on the Squires' 21. A Hanover pass fell incomplete and Parry Spahr plunged for two yards. On the next play Jeff Rebert, quarterback, shot a pretty screen pass to Spahr on the 19 from where he raced into the end zone behind the protection of a flock of blockers. John Gallagher, Delone guard, broke through to block Greg Pratt's kick for the point.

Midway in the period Bobby Conrad intercepted a Hawk pass and returned to the Hanover 36 but Delone was unable to move and after Roger Sanders was spilled for an eight-yard loss, gave up the ball on the Hanover 440 from where the Hawks launched their second touchdown drive.

HAWKS ON DRIVE

Bob Shue and Bill Hoffacker racked up two first downs to the Delone 32 and a 15-yard penalty against the Squires put the ball back on the 17. In four plays Hanover gained a first down on the seven. Five more yards were picked up by Spahr and Hoffacker before Rebert went across on a quarterback sneak from the two in the final minute of the half. Pratt's conversion try was wide.

Bucky Kempton's Squires dominated play through much of the second half, twice getting deep into Hanover territory.

In the third period Delone penetrated to the Hanover 24 but was stopped by the stout Hawk defense.

The best Squire threat came in the waning moments of the game. Delone, sparked by the ball-toting of Chub Elder and a pair of passes by Sanders, one to Larry Smith for 14 yards and other to Mike Lawrence for 26, moved for four successive first downs from the Delone 18 to the Hanover 17.

STOPPED AT EIGHT

Three tries later Delone had reached the Hawks' eight but failed to make the first down as Hanover took over and then ran out the clock on three quarterback sneaks.

Delone held the statistical edge in practically every department but found the Hanover defense too tough when the chips were down. It was Hanover's 21st victory in the series. Delone has won six while two games ended in ties.

Next Friday evening Delone will meet Lebanon Catholic at McSherrystown in a Central Penn Catholic League game.

Farm Agent Zettle Says: Don't Plant Timothy Seed Containing Yellow Rocket

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Winter mustard . . . wintercress . . . or yellow rocket. Regardless of what you call it it's a serious weed on many Adams County farms, and it's hard to control.

Frank S. Zettle

Yellow rocket is much harder to control than its cousin — the yellow flowering annual wild mustard. They're sometimes confused, and you may have seen yellow rocket in alfalfa fields or other fields where the forage is not too heavy.

The plant can be identified by its waxy leaves and yellow flowers. It blooms in late May and June. The seed can be distinguished from timothy seed by its egg shape, pitted seed coat, and metallic grayish-brown color.

DON'T PLANT SEED

This hard-to-control weed has gotten on eastern farms through the use of timothy or some other seed that had yellow rocket mixed in with it, or through the purchase of first crop hay which contained the weed. Timothy seed seems to be the biggest source of contamination. However, some yellow rocket seeds have been found in birdsfoot trefoil seed.

The best control is simply don't plant the seed. Make sure the timothy seed you buy doesn't contain this weed.

DROUGHT-HIT CORN

Delay harvesting corn for silage as long as possible. This applies to both drought-stricken and normal corn. The feeding value of corn silage increases as the corn plant ages. This is in sharp contrast to hay-crop and most annual forages, because these other forages decrease in feeding value as they become more mature.

Although drought-stricken corn may have little or no ear development, let it stand as long as possible. Use the amount of dried-out leaves as an indication of when to ensile. Harvest the corn for silage when more than the bottom leaves start to lose their color and become dried out. When no ears are present, the corn plant tends to be higher in sugar as its usual maturing time approaches. Thus it is important to let this drought-stricken corn stand until a bit more than the bottom leaves dry out.

HARD TO KEEP

If corn silage becomes too dry its keeping quality may be adversely affected. Addition of water at ensiling time may be required for corn forage with lots of dead leaves.

Corn that has developed grain should be ensiled as it reaches the dent stage. At this state it is more highly digestible and much lower in moisture content than in the milk stage.

Drought-stricken corn should approach the feeding value of average grass silage and exceed that of other annuals such as sorghum and sudan grass. Well-eared corn forage, ensiled in the dent stage, makes silage that equals or excels all other types. There is a tendency among many farmers to harvest corn for silage when it is too immature.

Redcoat and Dual wheat varieties, which are Hessian fly resistant, can be seeded as early as August for fall pasture and still be harvested for grain the following year.

Drill in deeply 40-40-40 (400 pounds of 10-10-10). Seeding rate is 3 bushels per acre where it is to be pastured in the fall.

Wheat may also be pastured in the spring if top-dressed in early spring with 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre. Good grain yields will result if not pastured beyond the jointing stage.

A Bradford County farmer pastured 28 head of dairy cattle last fall in eight acres of Dual wheat from October 1 until well into November and still harvested 35 bushels of wheat per acre the following summer.

$12 MILLION PROGRAM SET IN ALLENTOWN

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The Allentown Catholic Diocese has announced a $12 million building program that includes three new high schools and the first buildings for a men's college.

The Most Rev. Joseph McShea said Thursday a fund drive to raise $7.5 million in pledges by the end of the year will start immediately.

The arts and sciences college will be located at Center Valley seven miles south of Allentown and is to open September 1965. An enrollment of 1,000 is planned.

The proposed high schools, cost, enrollment and opening date are: Marian High School in Hometown, near Tamaqua, $2.5 million, 1,800, September 1963; Bethlehem Catholic, $3.5 million, 2,500, September 1964; West Reading Catholic, $2.5 million, 1,800, September 1964.

The building program also includes the expansion of high schools in Green Pond, Roseto and Pottsville.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott R-Pa., voted with the majority Thursday as the Senate passed 59-24 President Kennedy's heavily-amended tax revision measure. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., was opposed.

YOUNG SLAYER ESCAPES JAIL IN DAYLIGHT

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Donald Montgomery, facing a sentence of life imprisonment for murder, was still at large today following a daring daylight escape Friday from the Butler County Jail.

The Brackenridge youth, convicted in the arson-death of Mrs. Pauline Ritter, 67, of Cabot, scaled a prison wall and fled on foot Friday afternoon.

For the rest of the day and night, apparently alone, unarmed and broke, he managed to elude scores of state and local police patrolling the area and manning roadblocks.

GET FALSE TIPS

State police sent a teletype alarm throughout the eastern United States, with Montgomery's description: 5-8, 145 pounds, blue eyes, blond crew-cut, wearing a light shirt and trousers.

Soon telephone calls began pouring in from citizens who said they had spotted Montgomery—north of Butler, south of Butler, east and west of Butler. Police checked all of the tips, but all proved false.

"Every crew-cut kid in the area is suspect tonight," a state trooper remarked wryly.

Sheriff Earl B. Walker said Montgomery escaped during an exercise period in the prison yard by scaling, somehow, a 14-foot brick wall, climbing to the prison roof and making his way to a low spot where he dropped about 15 feet to the street outside.

Two telephone company employes in a nearby building saw him and sounded the alarm immediately.

In the trial which convicted him, the state charged that Montgomery and Charles Ganss Jr., 17, of Cabot had robbed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ritter, bound the elderly couple and shoved them into separate closets and then set five to the house last Jan. 20. Ritter managed to escape, but his wife perished in the flames.

RESCUE SCULLERS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two young scullers—Joseph Kelley, 17, and Vincent McIlhenny, 16—were rescued by the crew of the sightseeing boat "Jolly Roger" after their two-man shell overturned in the Schuylkill River Thursday. Fairmount Park guards in a motor launch towed the craft to safety.

Harry Moore, trustee of the Estes holdings, told the Times "All of the assets were sold."

Only Five Roles In Premier Of DuPont Show Of The Week—"The Outpost"

Claude Rains In "The Outpost"

Five top actors had a field day in New York where Roger O. Hirson's horror story, "The Outpost," was taped as the first "Du Pont Show of the Week."

The chiller, which stars Claude Rains. Richard Conte, Everett Sloane, Neville Brand and Kier Dullea, will be telecast Sunday, September 16, 10-11 p.m. NYT on NBC-TV

"Actors often argue among themselves over who has the best part in a show," admitted Rains. "But in this play, there are only five roles — and they're all juicy."

The story deals with five soldiers at a lonely desert fortress who are supposed to keep a sharp lookout for enemy movements. When a young lieutenant reports seeing the enemy, the others claim he is having hallucinations.

The senior member of the cast is Rains. He plays a colonel with a fine combat record and a less enviable history of having pocketed officers club funds.

"I was comfortably at home in Pennsylvania — looking forward to nothing more strenuous than gardening — when I received the script of 'The Outpost,' " recalled Rains.

"I immediately said no, I wasn't interested in doing a TV play. Then I picked up the script and read a few pages. It was fascinating Two hours later, I was on the phone to New York, hoping they hadn't given the part to some other actor."

WON'T REVEAL AGE

Rains is an elder statesman of the theater whose roles have ranged from the diabolic "Invisible Man" to Julius Caesar. He won't say how old he is, however.

"That's a secret an actor should keep to himself," Rains insisted. He admits that he was already an established performer when he taught acting at London's Royal Academy after World War I. Among his students were Charles Laughton and John Gielgud.

For Richard Conte, "The Outpost," is a rare live television appearance He usually limits himself to movie work.

"But I flew 3,000 miles — from Hollywood to New York — when they told me about the show," he said.

Conte's role is that of a sadistic captain, banished to the outpost after he led a platoon of trainees through a swamp where 15 drowned.

"A nice guy, huh?" said Conte.

"It's refreshing not to be the hero for a change," he continued. "Few people realize that I started out playing psychos and nuts on Broadway

"I had no idea of becoming an actor until I took a summer job as a waiter in the Catskill Mountains. There were a bunch of actors, Lee J. Cobb, John Garfield and Elia Kazan there, rehearsing a play.

"They asked me to tryout but I was a tough kid. I said, 'Acting's for sissies Then I saw the play and by the end of the third act, I wanted to be up there on the stage with them. When we went home after the summer, I started taking acting lessons — and it's been my life ever since."

Everett Sloane described his trip to New York to co-star in "The Outpost" as a home-coming.

"Back in the days when most TV dramas were telecast from New York, I lived here," he explained "I loved it. But when the work moved out to Hollywood, I moved too"

Sloane portrays a sniveling, cowardly private with strange family problems.

"He's a treacherous little double-crosser," said Sloane. "The last time I did a TV show in New

DID YOU KNOW

The real first name of supper club and recording comedy star Woody Woodbury, who will succeed Johnny Carson as host of ABC-TV's "Who Do You Trust" starting September 10, is Robert. "I was nicknamed 'Woody' in the Marines," he says. "Long before anybody ever heard of 'Woody Woodpecker.'"

TWO BOOKS TOLD ALL

The star of ABC-TV's "Tennessee Ernie Ford Show" recalls when the average home had only a couple of books that could be called "best-sellers."

Says Ernie, "They were, of course, the Bible which tells of the miracle of God, and the seed catalog which proves it."

Only 5 Roles

York, I portrayed a big-business tycoon. This is quite a switch."

In addition to several TV plays a year Sloane is also the star of a series. But no one ever sees his face. "I'm the voice of Dick Tracy in the cartoons," he explained.

Sloane got his start as an actor in Orson Welles' "Mercury Theater," best known for scaring millions of Americans with a realistic radio play about men from Mars.

One of the major characters in "The Outpost" is a sergeant with an ugly habit of shooting officers in the back. This role is played by Neville Brand.

"Strangers frequently tell me I look familiar," said Brand. "But they don't know why.

"I guess it's because I play Al Capone on 'The Untouchables.' The truth is that I don't look like Capone. He was a short fat character. I'm tall and husky. But a lot of kids are growing up to think that Al Capone and I are identical."

The youngest member of the cast is Kier Dullea. He came to New York for his role the hard way — driving through the Rocky Mountains from a vacation in Colorado.

He plays the lieutenant, the only member of the tortures "Outpost" squad who admits he can see the enemy.

"In a sense, I'm the outcast of the 'Outpost,'" he explained.

"I've been lucky," he continued. "I started acting only a few years ago and I've had some great parts."

It's a cheerful company putting "The Outpost" together for the "Du Pont Show of the Week."

The weak-willed colonel, the sadistic captain, the frightened lieutenant, the brutal sergeant and the cowardly private each think they have the best part in the show.

THE NEW JACK PAAR SHOW

A new one-hour color interview and music show will make its debut on Friday, September 21, from 10 to 11 p.m. on the NBC-TV Network. With the unpredictable Jack Paar at the helm, the program will resemble to a large degree the late-night show which Paar has conducted on NBC-TV for the past five years.
